Session Descriptions

Please note that the precise content of these sessions is being adjusted to meet audience needs.

Dr. Emmanuel Ngomsi - Leadership and teamwork, qualities of leadership in EMS, qualities of team building. Working together and being productive, what prevents people from working together, team effectiveness and its impact on productivity, how to be productive. Dysfunctional teams. The differences between a manager and leader, getting people to be excited about becoming leaders.

Sue Hill will present on: conflict resolution; time management; stress reduction; and cultural awareness. Her greatest emphasis will be on conflict resolution.

Jimm Murray will present on the current status of federal legislation and rules affecting EMS providers; the National Registry initiative on Computer Based testing and why it has come about; and National Registry activities in research and community relations.

Speakers' Biographies

Dr. Emmanuel Ngomsi is an award winning educator, author and inventor. He spent nine years as an instructor and the chief-Language coordinator for the United States Peace Corps. An experienced educator and trainer, Dr. Ngomsi is a native of Cameroon and has lived in the United States and France. He specializes in teaching Americans about the cultures of West Africa and in promoting a love of cultures, respect for diversity and international experience among U.S. citizens. As a university professor he designed and taught numerous courses related to African cultures and education, as well as courses on culture and diversity in the workplace. Dr. Ngomsi earned his Bachelor's degree in Biology and a mater's degree in biological sciences at the University of Yaounde, Cameroon, an Educational Specialist Degree in Urban Leadership and Policy Studies in Education, and a Multidisciplinary Ph.D. in Public Affairs and Administration at the University of Missouri-Kansas City.

Sue Hill is an RN with experience in acute care, med surg and gerontology, and staff development. She is the Director of Education at Tabitha Health Care Services and has served on steering committees for NHCA and Health Partners Initiatives. Sue has lectured at conferences across the region on many topics such as Educating Adults, Cultural Diversity, and End of Life Care. Sue's enthusiastic conversational and interactive style coupled with her passion for helping healthcare providers provide better care for their patients makes her an ideal speaker for any audience type.

Register Online! To register online or to download the conference brochure, go to the CCC website at <http://www.ccneb.edu/commed> and use "EMS Leadership Conference" as a keyword search term.

Jimm Murray began his EMS career in 1968 as an ambulance attendant in Denver, Colorado and took the national pilot EMT training program presented in 1969. Mr. Murray is a charter member of the NREMT and is #3 on the list of actively Registered EMT's in the United States and is currently the Vice Chairman of the National Registry board. He has served as a grant reviewer for several federal agencies and serves on many national committees for both the federal government and health associations, including the NIH National Heart Attack Alert Program. Mr. Murray is also a reviewer for the Continuing Education Coordinating Board for Emergency Medical Services (CECBEMS), and is a contributing editor to the EMS INSIDER publication, and has authored over two dozen articles. He was the founder and first president of the National Association of State EMS Directors and now resides in La Vista Nebraska.
